

Job Vacancy Sites

Last Updated Wednesday, 29 November 2006

Advertise job vacancies with this great product. Fully automated front end and back end, numerous payment processor options and easy to administer. Can be used for local, national or international vacancies. Your users can browse jobs or search by job title and apply immediately online. Recruiters can add jobs and update job status throughout the hiring process. The administrator can approve or deny any job and controls publishing status. Features:

- View job openings - Users can list published job openings and sort on different fields.
- Post job openings - Any visitor can post job openings, but they need to be approved by admin before they are published.
- View internship openings - Like job openings but only for internships.
- Post internship opening - Post internship opening.
- Submit application - Users can send applications for job openings.
- Search job postings.
- Included languages: English, French, Italian, Russian, Swedish, Dutch, Spanish, Polish, Brazilian Portuguese, Norwegian, German (formal), German (informal), Portuguese and Turkish
- Possibility to customize extra fields for job postings. If you are interested in having a job vacancy website, please contact us, let us know your requirements and we'll send you a very competitive quote.
